20. Additional Comments:

This Court had previously received the caseload/workload from York City Ward 1 by Local Order to provide balance to 19-1-01. The recommendation is to make it permanent. The average caseload and workload for this Judicial District is 16% and 21% greater, respectively, than the State average. With approval of this proposed realignment and adjustments to the courts with lower workloads, the workload for this Court should be within the standard range.

The average caseload and workload for this Judicial District is 16% and 21% greater, respectively, than the State average. This Magisterial District is limited to one municipality which is the central retail location for the County. It would not be feasible nor is anyone (including the MDJ) suggesting the municipality be divided. With approval of the proposed adjustments to courts with lower caseload/workloads, analysis suggests the caseload and workload for this Court will remain in the upper percentage of the Judicial District due to its high concentration of retail business, but it should be closer to the standard range than present.

20. Additional Comments:

The realignment of this District will create contiguous borders between municipalities/wards as well as case/workload equity. The average caseload and workload for this Judicial District is 16% and 21% greater, respectively, than the State average. With approval of the proposed adjustments to the courts with lower workloads, anecdotal and preliminary analysis suggest the workload for this Court should be within the standard range.

Nineteenth Judicial District, York County, Pennsylvania

Proposed Reestablishment and Realignment of Magisterial District Court Offices

The Nineteenth Judicial District of Pennsylvania is comprised of the York County Court of Common Pleas and nineteen Magisterial District Courts. Pursuant to Pennsylvania statute, in each year following that in which the federal decennial census is officially reported, the Court must reestablish the number and jurisdictional boundaries of the magisterial districts within the judicial district. After a period of public comment, the President Judge must propose a reestablishment and realignment plan to the Pennsylvania Supreme Court for approval. Having taken into account the recent historical caseload and workload trends of each magisterial district, the President Judge is considering the plan outlined below. Interested parties are invited to submit written comments to the District Court Administrator, 45 North George Street, York, PA, 17401 no later than February 10, 2022 for the Court's consideration.
